

Lynne Abbes Rolley

Miramonte Class of 1967

Long before she coached some of the biggest names in professional tennis, Lynne Abbes was making her mark on the courts at Miramonte High School.

A standout athlete, she became one of the nation's top tennis players, and then an esteemed coach.

She coached Team USA in international competitions and helped develop many of America's top players, among them Lindsay Davenport, Jennifer Capriati, Chanda Rubin, and sisters Venus and Serena Williams.

Although her career has taken her around the world, Orinda has always remained home. Married Mike Rolley M62.

Still working, she was recently named CEO of the Professional Tennis Registry the world's largest organization dedicated to educating and certifying racquet sports professionals in more than 127 countries.

