Larry Reid Miramonte Class of 1969

Larry was just a young kid from up the street and then we wound up doing the Knights of Orinda initiation ritual together, rolling a tire up Moraga Way after school on a Friday, in our underwear.

Who thought of this I'd like to know?

Then we all had a huge drunken party up on Sand Hill.

Here's how he remembers Miramonte:

"I went to private schools at both Santa Maria in Orinda and St. Mary's in Berkeley. There was no comparison to the education that we received in the public schools in Orinda.

I transferred to Miramonte in my sophomore year and I was in heaven.

Walking in the halls between classes and girls bumping into me always put a huge smile on my face".

He went on to the University of Utah and a successful career in Real Estate in the Central Valley.

He claims now to be "a pretty boring old man".

But he still enjoys the All Orinda Reunions.
